MAUNA

Internal load (sRPE & ACWR)

1–7 OCT 2026

Weekly sRPE volume ranges from ~500 to ~1400 AU across the squad. Tyson Walker and Trey Woodbury recorded the highest volumes. ACWR EWMA: most players remain within the 0.8–1.3 zone. A few players (Tyson Walker, Trey Woodbury) approach or exceed 1.3 at week's end — monitor for acute load spikes.

ACWR EWMA (acute:chronic ratio) — Group 1

Time series — load ratio evolution

ACWR EWMA (acute:chronic ratio) — Group 2

Time series — load ratio evolution

ACWR EWMA: Acute:Chronic Workload Ratio using exponentially weighted moving averages (7-day acute / 28-day chronic). Values between 0.8–1.3 are considered optimal; <0.8 may indicate under-preparation, >1.3 suggests elevated injury risk from rapid load increases.

Wellness

MOOD, ENERGY, STRESS

Hugo Robineau and Kadin Shedrick maintain the highest average wellness scores (mood ~5, energy ~5, stress 5). Assemian Moularé and Keith Jordan present lower scores (mood ~2.7–3.3, energy ~3.1–3.2). Radar profiles show notable dispersion across the three axes (energy, mood, stress).

Wellness scales: All metrics (Mood, Energy, Stress) are rated 1–5, where higher values indicate better states. These are subjective self-reports collected daily.

Average sleep quality: Hugo Robineau (4.8) and Nathan Soliman (4.3) lead the squad; Assemian Moularé and Keith Jordan are at 3.0. Hours in bed: Adrian Nelson records 11.8 h (data validity to be checked), Kadin Shedrick 7.6 h, most players 8–9 h. Daily evolution shows relative stability across the week for most players.

WATCH & REVIEW

Five players flagged this week across load, wellness, and sleep domains. Two players (Tyson Walker, Trey Woodbury) require monitoring for elevated ACWR; two (Assemian Moularé, Keith Jordan) for low wellness and sleep quality; one (Adrian Nelson) for anomalous sleep duration data.

TW

Tyson Walker

Point Guard (PG)

WATCH

High sRPE volume (~1400 AU) and ACWR EWMA approaching 1.3 at week's end. Monitor acute load progression.

TW

Trey Woodbury

Shooting Guard (SG)

WATCH

High sRPE volume (~1350 AU) and ACWR EWMA >1.3. Acute load spike to monitor.

AM

Assemian Moularé

Shooting Guard (SG)

REVIEW

Low wellness scores (mood 2.7, energy 3.1) and sleep quality 3.0. Consider individual follow-up.

KJ

Keith Jordan

Small Forward (SF)

REVIEW

Low wellness scores (mood 3.3, energy 3.2) and sleep quality 3.0. Consider individual follow-up.

AN

Adrian Nelson
